

Stimulus may cover more highway projects

The Arizona Department of Transportation says bids for highway projects funded with federal stimulus money are coming in under expectations and that savings will provide funding for additional projects.

The department says the bids have been received for 21 of the 34 stimulus projects advertised and that the low bids are coming in at $67.5 million. That's $15 million below the department's estimates.

All content © Copyright 2001 - 2009 WorldNow and KGUN. All Rights Reserved.
For more information on this site, please read our Privacy Policy and Terms of Service.

□